Dr. Eichelberger completes the Resource Guide annually and automatically sends it out to those on her list who are authorized to distribute it. She asks that those she authorizes to hand out the guide to their staff and clients commit to following five things:

- 1. The Resource Guides are never to be altered in any way or piece mealed. Altered is self-explanatory. Piece mealed means the guide is never to be copied and distributed in sections. It is to be distributed in its original form and in its entirety, front to back every time and to everyone who receives a copy of it.
- 2. If staff or clients find something in the guide that is inaccurate or no longer valid notification to Dr. Eichelberger will occur so accuracy of the annual guide can be maintained.
- 3. The name, address of the organization, office telephone & fax number, and email address of the person in the organization authorized to oversee implementation of these commitments is provided.
- 4. When the authorized organization/person has something that should be corrected in the Resource Guide or finds a community resource that is not in the guide but should be Dr. Eichelberger will be notified and provided such information for review and verification to update the next Annual Resource Guide. (Particularly of interest are new resources that do not require governmental agencies (CYS, JPO, etc.) involvement as the goal is to help people become more self-sufficient and less dependent on the system).
- 5. Encourage other interested organizations to contact Dr. Eichelberger directly for the Resource Guide and not piggy back on a copy obtained somewhere else in order to assist assessment of the Resource Guide's usefulness.

Candidates must live or work in York City/County for at least six contiguous months prior to applying for the program. Family does not qualify for homeownership through conventional financing; the family has not owned a home for at least two years and the family meets low income criteria . In addition, one of the following must be true: The family's current housing is physically inadequate, unsafe, or overcrowded, or the family is "cost-burdened." (Cost burdened is defined as needing 50% or more of the family's income to pay the typical rent in York County. Furthermore, the family does not have savings to put money down on a home.). It must be true that 1) The family has a "reliable source of income" which has been stable for at least a year and expected to continue for at least two years. 2) The family's annual income is adequate to make the monthly principal, tax, and insurance payments (approx. $500-$700 per month) while meeting their other debt and living expenses. For York Habitat, this is defined as total debt including the projected principal, taxes, and insurance on the new home not exceeding 40% of income. 3) The family has a credit history free of liens and judgments that would prohibit their ability to sign a mortgage; they have not had a bankruptcy, foreclosure, or deed in lieu of foreclosure in the past 7 years; are not involved in a lawsuit; and they have a demonstrated history of making payments on time, or as negotiated with creditors during time of crisis. 4) The family is able to save $500 for a down payment required at closing.
